

Pawa Meri

An exciting series of films celebrating the unique role of women in modern Papua New Guinea

Save Meri Skulim Meri

Susil Nelson (Port Moresby) | Director: Joys Egging

Save Meri Skulim Meri tells how Susil Nelson, an accountant based in Port Moresby works in a largely male dominated profession. She has also been supporting and inspiring young girls to receive an education and develop their careers. Hers is an uplifting story of how family support, hard work and perseverance can have a positive effect on the country.

Never Give Up

Gina Baidam (Daru) | Director: Ruth Ketau

Never Give Up is a moving story of community worker Gina Baidam from the Western Province who is determined to bring a birthing facility to her community in Serimambu on the Fly River. As community members describe the struggles that pregnant mothers face in this remote community Gina takes the lead in finding assistance to improve their situation.

Voice of Change

Sr. Lorraine Garasu (Bougainville) | Director: Llaine Munau

Voice of Change is set on Bougainville, an autonomous region of PNG coming out of a 10-year civil war. Humanitarian Sr. Lorraine lived through the crisis emerging as a mediator to promote peace and reconciliation. Now she leads the Nazarene Centre assisting individuals and families with their daily struggles, as Bougainville is not just rebuilding infrastructure but its people.

Lapan

Miriam Potopi (Manus) | Director: Renagi Taukarai

Lapan is a film about Miriam Potopi, one of the first female village magistrates in PNG. Miriam's charismatic personality and her understanding of cultural laws and protocols make her a respected leader in her community. The film captures the many challenges Miriam has overcome in her life.

Meri Markham

Jennifer Baing Waiko (Markham) | Director: Klinit Barry

Meri Markham takes us on a journey with Jenifer Baing Waiko. The film describes Jenifer's return to her community as a woman that has been educated overseas but has not forgotten her roots. Meri Markham follows her journey to stand for the 2012 Markham Open Election.

Yu Ken Mekim

Rita Kare (Goroka) | Director: Janet Munaup

Yu Ken Mekim is a story that resonates with many Papua New Guinean women going into business. It is a glimpse into the motivations, heart-aches and sacrifices women experience when deciding to do business. Rita Kare sold food on the streets of Goroka and now successfully runs the Steakhaus Restaurant. The film explores Rita's and her husband Peter's journey of fulfilling their dream.

Pawa Meri
Role Models to Inspire

Pawa Meri

Role Models to Inspire

An exciting series of films celebrating the unique role of women in modern Papua New Guinea

Centre for Social and Creative Media
University of Goroka - Papua New Guinea
Web: www.pawameri.org | www.cscm-uog.org
Email: info@pawameri.org | info@cscm-uog.org

Total Running Time: 6 x 26 minutes (156 minutes)
Language: Tok Pisin and English, with English Subtitles
Please do not copy without permission.

