2016 visiting scholar presentation series

Dr Phoebe Hart is a writer, director and producer of documentaries, factual content and children's television. Dr Hart is also a lecturer in film, television and digital media at the Queensland University of Technology, and principal of Hartflicker, a video and film production company. She is known particularly for her autobiographical road trip movie, Orchids: My Intersex Adventure. Hart completed her film studies at the Queensland University of Technology (QUT) in 1995. She has worked for Network Ten and the Australian Broadcasting Corporation.

Tfer Newsome has been creating award-winning soundtracks for films and documentaries for over fifteen years. Her skills were honed during her time in Sydney at AFTRS where she achieved her Masters in Sound. She adores working with documentaries particularly, because it offers the opportunity to enhance and explore the world of subject, and help to convey the story. Tfer runs LCR Film Sound, a small studio in leafy New Farm, and teaches sound for the Film, Television and Animation School within the Creative Industries Faculty at the Queensland University of Technology.
